CATALOGUE MOBILE VERSION

We are here to help

- ABOUT - SlashProd is a network of professionals under the coordination of Alessandro Cozzutto.
- MISSION - We're particularly good at conveying technical messages to your target audience.
- GETTING STARTED - Just drop us a message to tell us a bit more about your needs and expectations.
We will take care of formulating a proposal, a budget range, a calendar and a list of deliverables.

• INVOICING & PAYMENT

Clients give written approval of the final product's preview via email. The delivery of the final product's original files is upon payment, unless different agreements apply.

• REVIEW

Our offers include one technical review by default. A technical review ensures that our productions display no typos, misspelled names, broken links, digital bugs or faulty functionalities. We send you regular requests of feedback, so that the final product and your expectations match perfectly!

• NON DISCLOSURE

The client agrees not to share in any way, to use for its own purposes, or to carry out personally/with other suppliers all the creative and technical proposals here described - and/or delivered - without prior written agreement with Slash Prod.
